

Brethertons Expands its Commercial Recovery Team

Monday 3rd March 2008

Brethertons LLP is pleased to announce that Nicky Beveridge has joined Brethertons LLP, as the firm continues to expand its Commercial Recovery Team.

Nicky started her career at Courtaulds PLC some 27 years ago and stayed with the legal department which was absorbed into the former London practice of Warner Cranston and formed the foundation of the Warner Cranston Coventry Office. Following the merger with global law firm Reed Smith, they adopted a business strategy to withdraw from the debt recovery business and some of the business and staff were transferred to the sole practitioner firm of Coltman Warner Cranston.

Nicky is the fourth member of staff to have joined Brethertons from Reed Smith/Coltman Warner Cranston in recent years

Jackie Ray, Head of Commercial Recoveries, said:

"Nicky brings a wealth of experience of commercial collections and is pleased to be joining the full service office that is offered by Brethertons LLP. Nicky will join our 28 strong team offering practical and commercial debt recovery solutions to large corporate clients."

Shaun Jardine, Brethertons Litigation Partner, said:

"I am delighted to welcome Nicky to our Commercial Recovery Team. Our business is growing at a healthy rate with our expanding client base and recent tender successes. We continue to search for good people to join our team."

Brethertons Commercial Recovery team is recognised by the Legal 500 directory as being one of the Top 8 firms in the South East.
